Care of Your Whiteboard

The following care instructions apply to all porcelain, melamine, and electronic copyboard surfaces.

Regular care of your whiteboard

- A whiteboard should be free of writing before the first use and at the end of each day of use.
- Before first use, wash the writing surface with a soft cotton cloth and a mild soap and water solution, or an ammonia-based cleaner. Do not use an abrasive cleanser or harsh chemicals.
- Dry writing surface with a soft cloth.
- Repeat step "B" and "C" once a month or as often as needed.
- Use only dry-erase markers on the writing surface, other markers may permanently stain.
- An approved dry-erase cleaner or conditioner should be used regularly to avoid erasure problems.
